

It seems to me that this action will only punish law-biding citizens, depriving them of the ability to time-shift broadcasts (fair use), while others will simply hack the software to ignore that bit. In other words, it's more harmful than doing nothing.